In Numbers 24:17, the “corners of Moab” denotes the whole land of Moab. The “corner of a field” (Leviticus 19:9; 23:22) is its extreme part, which was not to be reaped. The Jews were prohibited from cutting the “corners,” i.e., the extremities, of the hair and whiskers running round the ears (Leviticus 19:27; 21:5). The “four corners of the Earth” in Isaiah 11:12 and Ezek. 7:2 denotes the whole land. The “corners of the streets” mentioned in Matthew 6:5 means the angles where streets meet so as to form a square or place of public resort. The corner gate of Jerusalem (2 Kings 14:13; 2 Chronicles 26:9) was on the northwest side of the city. Cornerstone (Job 38:6; Isaiah 28:16), a block of great importance in binding together the sides of a building. The “head of the corner” (Psalm 118:22, 23) denotes the coping, the “coign of vantage”, i.e., the topstone of a building. But the word “cornerstone” is sometimes used to denote some person of rank and importance (Isaiah 28:16). Our Lord is called the Cornerstone who was set in highest honor (Matthew 21:42). He is also styled “the chief corner stone” (Ephesians 2:20; 1 Peter 2:6-8). When Zechariah (10:4), speaking of Judah, says, “Out of him came forth the corner,” he is probably to be understood as ultimately referring to the Messiah as the “cornerstone.” ALSO SEE Article Version: August 27, 2019 Chief Cornerstone is one of the messianic names of Jesus (Yeshua’). It describes Him as an important cornerstone in a building. The Hebrew word ro’sh and the Greek word kephalē both mean “head.” The Greek word gonia comes from the word for a knee and so it means an angle or corner. This stone was placed at the top of a wall corner to help hold the building together. In the psalm, this descriptive name referred to the nation of Israel who came from rejection to occupy the honored position. The messianic meaning of the name becomes clear in the New Testament verses that quote the psalm. The Jews were like the builders. In unbelief, they rejected Jesus and had Him crucified. They did not realize that Jesus was the stone that God had chosen to cap His spiritual building. The Lord Jesus Christ should be both the foundation of all we do, but also the final stone holding everything together. Chief Cornerstone (Rosh pinna) in the Hebrew text of Psalm 118:22. Chief Cornerstone in Hebrew: Ro’sh pinna Strong’s Concordance numbers: 7218, 6438 Bible reference: Ps. 118:22 The stone which the builders rejected Has become the chief cornerstone. (Psalm 118:22) In the KJV He is called the head stone of the corner. Chief Cornerstone in the Greek text of 1 Peter 2:7. Chief Cornerstone in Greek: Kephalē gonia Strong’s Concordance numbers: 2776, 1137 Bible references: Luke 20:17; Acts 4:11; 1 Pet. 2:7 All these New Testament verses quote Ps. 118:22. However, some Bible versions translate the Greek words with different names for Jesus, for instance: capstone (NIV) and head of the corner (KJV). Other names of Jesus speak of Him as a stone or rock. He is the stone of stumbling and the rock of offense. Either people consider Him precious and give Him honor, or they see no value in Him and discard Him. First Peter chapter two explains that Jesus fulfilled several of these names including the related title, “cornerstone.” No matter how many search engines one uses, no matter how many libraries one visits, no matter how many Forums one asks, the question always seems to remain the same: What is the Bible trying to say when it uses the word 'Cornerstone'. It's just another Rock for Heaven's sake, and Jesus was a wood carpenter anyway. Those goofy Freemasons with their absurd and ridiculous rites and rituals aren't going to be any help either. Half of them still think that Cornerstone and a Capstone MEAN THE SAME THING! As the somewhat disgusting American saying goes, Bible scholars and other related experts need to get their heads out of their b-tts, or more precisely- they need to get their Capstones out their Cornerstones and figure out this Biblical mystery once and for all. Until then, it's time for yet another 'as the Bible states...'
